

NGHTRDIO

ABOUT

nghtrdio is a Finnish House duo formed by Oskr and Tsaar who consider themselves as bastards of electronic dance music. The duo stands out from the crowd with their way of performing their sets live and their self-sufficiency in production, the use of real instruments, and original vocals. nghtrdio released their second single, Fake The Funk, earlier this year. nghtrdio's style could be described as dark and intensive Progressive House.

In the Summer of 2022 nghtrdio will be performing at the most important indie music festivals in their hometown Turku such as Kesärauha and Ilmiö. More shows in Finland will take place later this year. Next step for the duo will be arranging shows outside their home country along with a release of an EP.

nghtrdio has gained a lot of attention with their first two singles releases by getting airtime at the biggest national radio station in Finland, YleX and receiving amazing reviews from blogs and curators around the world. Also they've managed to build an intriguing status as an underground act in the electronic music scene in Finland, so that you want to discover it before others.

nghtrdio is looking for many kinds of collaboration opportunities such as managers, promoters, agents and labels outside Finland to take this to the next level.
